
Open Hydrology Documentation

Release 0.1.0

Open Hydrology contributors

Nov 18, 2017

End-user packages

Open Hydrology (OH) is an initiative to advance (flood) hydrology software using the principles of open source software. The aim is to make recent scientific research widely available through modern and user-friendly software packages and libraries.